Respectful relationships and wellbeing

Life Ed is Australia's largest and most trusted provider of preventive health education to school children. Along with Healthy Harold, our giraffe mascot, Life Ed has been empowering children to make safer and healthier choices for over 40 years. On average, we reach 700,000 children annually. Our educators reach students across Australia via mobile classrooms, pop-up classrooms, and via virtual and online lessons and resources.

This flyer will tell you what they learned today and how you can help them apply their new knowledge.

What is it about?

In this module, students investigate the importance of respectful relationships. Students explore how the physical and personal changes at this stage of life impact their behaviour, emotions and relationships. They also learn strategies to recognise and report disrespectful and unsafe behaviours online. Your child learnt about:

- The characteristics and importance of respectful relationships
- Concepts such as respect, empath and consent
- Recognising body clues
- How to recognise, react and report unwanted contact, bullying or predatory behaviours.

Why is this module important?

- In August 2021, as part of the Australian National University Centre for Social Research and Methods' COVID-19 Impact Monitoring Survey Program, it was reported that 61% experienced a negative impact on their mental health<sup>1</sup>.
- Good friends and friendships are important to pre-teens and teenagers because they give them a sense of belonging and being valued by people other than their family<sup>2</sup>.
- Bullying and online safety are top concerns for Aussie parents with 80% considering it to be very important<sup>3</sup>.

What's next?

Your child's teacher has online lessons they will use in the classroom to continue their learning.

You can support this at home by:

Talking: Talk to your child about what they have learned.

- How could one person disagree with another respectfully?
- How do relationships keep us healthy?
- What are examples of when a face-to-face conversation is better than texting or posting online?

Doing:

Safe, Secure Settings: Revisit safety and security settings on your families' laptops, PC's, iPads/tablets, and phones to ensure your children are using/viewing apps, websites, videos and content that is safe and age appropriate for their development.

iSet Boundaries: Set safe boundaries for devices to ensure visibility. (no phones or iPads/tablets in bedrooms, or behind closed doors)

More: Check out these Life Ed resources.
